Notice to Potomac Edison customers

On August 1, 2012, the Public Service Commission docketed the Formal Complaint of Sugarloaf Conservancy v. The Potomac Edison Company (ML # 139432) to investigate the Company's failure, as required by Section 10(b) of its tariff, to read customers' electric meters no less frequently than bimonthly. If Potomac Edison has failed to read your meter at least once every other month, and you would like to be a part of the investigation, you must submit to the Commission: (i) the customer's name and address; and (ii) copies of the customer's electric bills showing that Potomac Edison relied on estimated meter readings more often than every other month. Your submission must specifically reference the Formal Complaint of Sugarloaf Conservancy v. The Potomac Edison Company (ML # 139432) and be sent to: David Collins, Executive Secretary, Public Service Commission of Maryland, 6 St. Paul Street, 16th Floor, Baltimore, Maryland 21202. (Contact numbers for the Commission are: 410-767-8068, 1-800-492-0474, 1-800-735-2258 (TTY/Voice), and website: www.psc.state.md.us.)

Or, you may send you submission to OPC and we will deliver it to the Commission. Please be advised that OPC will accept only paper copies of your submission; we will not print and deliver submissions that are sent to us be e-mail.
